Nocturnal Animal Adaptations

Thursday, November 10th

Program starts at 6:00pm

Rogers City Area Senior and Community Center

Free admission

Discover the fascinating features and adaptations of Michigan's native nocturnal animals. Learn how these animals adapt at night and how they develop these amazing tools for survival.

This program is presented by the Organization for Bat Conservation and includes live animals...an owl, bats, and a flying squirrel.

This program is sponsored by the Presque Isle District Library and the Presque Isle Conservation District.
