

Lake Huron Place-Based Education Summer Teacher Institute

SOUTHEAST MICHIGAN
STEWARDSHIP COALITION

August 5-8, 2013

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Extension

Facilitated by NEMIGLSI

The Lake Huron Place - Based Education Summer Institute is designed so teachers

- Make connections to the Great Lakes through Great Lakes Literacy
- Address and improve their understanding of Michigan's education expectations through quality hands—on projects
- Meet the needs of the community and strengthening partnerships between schools and their community

Teachers will be sampling a variety of watershed projects from ROV to water quality testing and eco-tourism. The Summer Institute is an opportunity for teachers to get their feet wet while learning the foundational elements for successful Place- Based Education and Great Lakes Stewardship. Northeast Michigan teacher Bekki Heckman will share her experiences and lessons learned with Place- Based Education and Great Lakes Literacy.

Cost: None, Applications required.
Free Lodging and Meals. Teacher Support:
$200 Participant Stipends; and Project
Stipends towards implementing your planned
Stewardship Education Project

When: August 5—8, 2013

Where: U of M Biological Station Pellston, MI

Enrollment is Limited!

Applications are available on the web at nemiglsi.org, miseagrant.umich.edu/education or Semiscoalition.org

Application Deadline is May 17, 2013

Completed applications should be sent by email to: Brandon Schroeder,
Michigan Sea Grant Extension schroe45@msu.edu
989-354-9885

Funding for this workshop and teacher stipends provided by the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative and the Great Lakes Fishery Trust's Great Lakes Stewardship Initiative